

Handbag of the week: Bric

By Jemma Tibbals

Weekender bag, £165 by Bric at Harrods and Selfridges

Ellen Page, James McAvoy, Keira Knightley and Marion Cotillard

Rule Britannia! Sunday night's BAFTAs finally gave us the red carpet fix we've been yearning for. Writers strikes, and in turn press conferences, across the pond have lacked the glitz that usually surrounds this time of year. But the British Academy of Film and Television Arts settled for nothing less than high-octane glamour.

No red carpet event would be complete without a fabulously OTT goody bag. handbag.com can reveal that BAFTA nominees were presented with Bric weekend bags. Made in Italy, the luggage and accessory brand Bric has a classic look which BAFTA organisers thought 'epitomised the timeless glamour and elegance associated with the movies'.

To see last week's handbag of the week by Stella McCartney for LeSportsac... just click here